LINDA

International Sales Manager

"Success in international sales isn't just about closing a deal; it's about cultivating deep, cross-border trust and delivering a flawless client experience from initial concept to global delivery."

Bringing 9 years of dedicated expertise in global sales and business development, Reena drives the brand's commercial expansion across premium international markets. With a sharp focus on B2B client acquisition, partnership cultivation, and high-value contract negotiation, she specializes in aligning manufacturing excellence with the demanding expectations of global developers, interior designers, and elite trade professionals.

REENA

Founder

"True luxury isn't just about creating beautiful objects; it's about mastering the execution, the materials, and the global vision required to bring art into living spaces."

With over 27 years of cross-functional business experience, Linda is the visionary force behind the strategic direction and growth of the brand. Her career spans deep expertise in international trade, operational leadership, and market expansion, allowing her to bridge the gap between world-class manufacturing precision and high-end luxury design. As Founder, she oversees global strategy and business development, ensuring that every collection meets the exacting standards expected by international elite clientele, designers, and developers.

Founder's Story

Every great brand begins with a simple conviction. Years ago, Areena entered the furniture industry, starting at the very foundation of manufacturing. Working alongside artisans, she learned the unique language of every material and came to understand the patience and persistence required to transform a concept—from initial idea and design sketch to the final finished piece—while mastering the fusion of traditional craftsmanship with a global, high-end aesthetic. Her vision was to create not merely furniture, but works of art worthy of gracing the world's finest residences, hotels, and commercial spaces. Thus, HIGHS ART was born. From a single factory to a distinguished brand; from manufacturing products to creating art. HIGHS ART has always believed:

Every piece of furniture should have a story of its own, and every space deserves a masterpiece worthy of being passed down through generations.
